

GRAND ROUNDS

Volunteers trump the day

On April 11, the very day RVH celebrated its many caring, dedicated volunteers with an ‘Oscar Awards’ Luncheon, a new group of enthusiastic volunteers swung into action on behalf of the RVH Foundation.

There’s a buzz in the air amongst the volunteers participating in the progressive Catch the Ace lottery—‘runners’ who deliver tickets and pick up stubs, sellers at the numerous retail locations, and ‘counters’ who reconcile the sales.

For first-time volunteers Charlene Prince and Bernie MacGregor, both retired from banking careers, it’s a way to become more active in the community and it feels good to give back. “RVH has been here for both our families over the years and we are very grateful to have such a superior facility close to home.”

Gladys and Doug Sidock, on the other hand, are veteran volunteers who love to help when they can, and in this instance, they are seeing a lot of excitement.

“The excitement from people selling is very enthusiastic,” says Doug. “It’s bringing in traffic for local businesses, so it’s win-win.”

In the first draw on April 18 at Finnigans Roadhouse, Leona Warren was the lucky winner of $3,201. On April 25 at Rocky Mountain House, Lawrence Paquette from White Lake won $2,893. He purchased his winning ticket from George Jackson Toyota.

The jackpot continues to grow and it’s not too late to get in on the action. You can purchase tickets at the Foundation office or at one of many participating retailers throughout the area.

Doug & Gladys Sidock, Bernie MacGregor and Charlene Prince are a few among the legion of volunteers involved in the RVH Foundation’s new Catch the Ace lottery that takes place each Thursday until a lucky winner ‘catches’ the Ace of Spades.
